

Authenticity, Advocacy, Awareness, Peer Support, Trainings

In February 2015, a Recovery Symposium in Houston County focused on recovery and fostered collaborations that led to the development of iHOPE. Today, the Advisory Team and Board of Directors continue the recovery movement by building peer/ally leadership and recovery partnerships that help keep people well in our communities.

What's a Recovery Community Organization (RCO)?

A Recovery Community Organization (RCO) is an independent, non-profit organization governed and led by a local recovery community. Like most RCOs, the majority of iHOPE's board and staff are also in recovery, making us a truly peer-led organization for addiction recovery.

RCOs offer non-clinical services to support all paths to addiction recovery. An RCO is not a treatment program. At iHOPE, we offer peer recovery support services designed to empower people to find long-term recovery through the best treatment for their situation.
